

Assignment 10

I intended to draw the solar system up to the real scale, however, the planets are too small to be observed. So, I plot the planets ten times larger than their real size in this animate, and I only draw the first 5 planets. Even though, they are still too small, so I add pointers indicate the location of them.